CLYDE GUY IS KILLED BY GRAND TRUNK TRAIN

Sometime between the hours of midnight and early dawn Sunday, Clyde G. Guy of Granger, Ind., was struck and killed by a Grand Trunk train. Just before dawn Sunday a conductor on a west bound train reported to the train dispatcher at South Bend that a horse was seen grazing inside the railroad right-of-way north of Mishawaka and that he carried a full set of harness. This led the officials to suppose that an accident had occurred and Coroner Swantz was notified at once. He went to the scene of the accident at the Lott crossing, about a mile and half northwest of the city, where parts of the body of a man were found strewn along the tracks for several blocks.

Apparently the buggy was struck by the train at Lott's crossing and Guy thrown on the other track. A later train passing again struck the man badly mutilating the body. A local undertaker was notified and the body was removed to Mishawaka.

Mr. Guy was well known in this city and was at one time a prominent and active worker in the Socialist local of this city. He was also employed on a local socialist paper and his articles carried considerable comment. He was employed for the past two years as day train dispatcher for the Grand Trunk system at Granger, where he resided with his family.

He was born Sept. 16, 1877, at Mercer, O., and was past 36 years old. He was a resident of Mishawaka for many years. Mr. Guy was united in marriage to Miss Nellie Snyder about 10 years ago at Mercer, O.

He is survived by his wife and father, J. C. Guy, who resided with him; one half-brother, Marvin Hettler, Angola, Ind.; two daughters, Dorcas and Nellie, and two sons, Darrol and Marion.

Funeral services will probably be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the Finch and Sprague chapel. Burial will be in the City cemetery.

DRIVER GETS EXCITED AND ACCIDENT RESULTS

A mistake in throwing the accelerator instead of the brake was the probable cause of an accident in which an automobile driven by James E. Wyrnt of Niles, Mich., was badly dismantled Sunday afternoon when struck by a south side car at the corner of Mill st. and Lincoln Highway west. According to some, the machine was coming up Mill, apparently to cross Lincoln highway. The driver of the machine, it is supposed, became excited when he saw the danger of the approaching car and worked the wrong mechanism. One of the parties in the machine said the brake refused to work. The front end of the auto was demolished, the wheels and frame being torn apart. The engine was also apparently damaged. It was necessary to tow the machine to a garage for repairs.

Mrs. Harriet Augusta Finch, one of Mishawaka's oldest and most prominent residents, died Sunday evening at St. Joseph's hospital, after an illness of several years. Death was due to complications of disease.

Mrs. Finch was very well known in Mishawaka and has resided here for the past 24 years. She was a member of the Baptist church and during her entire life up until the time of illness, was an active worker in the Woman's organization of that church. She was born Sept. 10, 1849, in this city, and was past 64 years of age. Mrs. Finch was united in marriage to Franklin A. Finch, at Constantine, Mich., in November, 1866. ## TRIPLE PLAY FEATURES GERGACZ GAME SUNDAY

Excitement featured the one-sided game between the South Bend Gergacz and the Mishawaka team Sunday afternoon at the North Side ball park. The locals defeated the visitors by a score of seven and three. It was a good game and furnished the fans with considerable features seldom seen on a ball diamond. Both teams played good ball but Porter for Mishawaka was too much for the Benders. Porter was assisted with good support from both the infield and outfield.

The game opened with three strikeouts for the visitors, while Mishawaka when up displayed well and secured two runs for their share of the first inning. Mishawaka took the lead in the first and held it throughout the game, although in the seventh the Gergacz rallied and for a time it looked like the Benders would even the score. They failed, however.

A triple play in the seventh was another big feature of the game. There were also many double plays and other freaks, which made the contest one of interest.

CLYDE RICHEY DIES.

Clyde Richey, of one mile north of Mishawaka, died at 9:30 o'clock Sunday evening after an illness covering several months. He was born in Plymouth, Ind. Feb. 5, 1882, and was past 32 years of age. He had been a resident of this county for 11 years and a former resident of Mishawaka.

He came here from Plymouth, Ind., and was employed at the Mishawaka Woolen Co. in the shoe department. He was married in 1904 to Miss Emma Klingerman, at Plymouth, Ind. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Richey, and four children, Glen, Lucile, Dorothy and Pauline Richey, all at home. His brothers, Ira, Harry and Ray Richey, and three sisters, Mrs. Dressie Turner, Mrs. Minnie Spriggs and Miss Grace Richey.

Funeral arrangements have not been made but will be announced later.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR HAS INTERESTING MEET

An interesting meeting of the Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church was given last evening. Miss Frieda Heiner was leader. After the regular meeting a business session was held. It was decided that the winners of a contest held several weeks ago by the organization, be entertained by the losers at the home of Miss Martha Niles, of Lincoln highway west. Invitations were issued Sunday evening.

It was decided to send delegates from the Christian Endeavor to the district convention which will be held at North Liberty, Ind. June 15, 16 and 17.

Following this reception of members was held after which Elmer Hawkins gave a short address on "Christian Endeavor Work" Outside the Locality. He told of the work going on all over the country and across the water and the advance that is being made by the Christian Endeavor societies.

He gave several readings from magazine and Christian Endeavor papers, and the following was an interesting cablegram from Barcelona, Spain, dated this month, says: "The greatest Protestant meeting ever held in Spain, with more than 4,000 present, was addressed by Rev. Francis E. Clarke, president of the World's Christian Endeavor union. The corporation of Barcelona granted the use of the Fine Arts palace, the largest auditorium in the city; concession absolutely without precedent in the history of Spanish Protestantism. Dr. Clarke will address conventions in Madrid, Valencia, Zaragoza and Bilbao."

TO MEET TONIGHT.

REV. EDWARDS GIVES MEMORIAL ADDRESS

Rev. Dr. Loren M. Edwards, pastor of the Methodist Memorial church at the Sunday morning service preached the Memorial sermon to the members of the G. A. R. post of this city. The Methodist church was selected by the G. A. R. as the pulpit from which the sermon would be preached this year. The old soldiers marched from their headquarters to the church in a body carrying a huge American flag at the head of the procession.

Rev. Edwards in the course of his remarks said: "It was George William Curtis who said that the three American orations that will never die are, Patrick Henry's at Williamsburg, Wendell Phillips at Faneuil Hall and the historic speech of Lincoln at Gettysburg. A thousand martyrs to liberty, but eloquence to Henry's lips; the spirit of Lovejoy, newly married at Alton, Ill., exhaled the memory that annointed the lips of Phillips, while the fields of Gettysburg all billowy with our nation's dead poured over Lincoln's sensitive soul the flood-tides of eloquence divine."

It was the speech of Lincoln that Everett, who had a part on this same program, said that he would give all his eloquence and scholarship to the twenty golden sentences. When Mr. Lincoln pronounced this immortal utterance he planted on that sacred field, hallowed by soldiers' blood, the purest, whitest flower of American eloquence.

"The civil war brought into prominent relief the patriotic heroism of the common soldier. With fine appreciation General Grant dedicated his 'Memorial' to the American soldier and sailor. As we look upon the history of this struggle the first form that comes out of the smoke of battle is that supreme patriot the common soldier. At the first tank of the war drums he sprang from his shop and store and farm, bade his wife and loved a hasty farewell, assured himself amid the gathering darkness, and forgetful of selfish interests marched into the mouth of death and battle, bared his bosom to shell or glistering steel and took his stand in death's highway that the republic might be saved."

"WAR IS HELL" AT CENTURY THEATER

Tonight, the management of the Century theater has a great treat in store for the many patrons who feature photoplay in four parts, "War is Hell" will be presented. Lester Hardy, who lived in the principality of Bergstern, sent his son, Adolph, to live with his friend, Model, an art of aviation. Model also had a son, Sigmund, who attended the aviation school and the two young men became fast friends. Adolph, after three months, became a pilot and aviator and wrote to his parents of his progress. He also confessed that he had fallen in love with Helene, his host's daughter. But peace and harmony was destined to be disrupted. War was declared between the two principalities and Adolph was ordered to return to Bergstern. Helene fastened her locket to Adolph's watch chain as a token of her love. When Adolph arrived home he immediately enlisted with the aviation corps, and was ordered to destroy the enemy's balloons if possible. Sailing through the air on his mission of destruction, he hurled bomb after bomb, destroying a dozen great balloons. Sigmund, who had enlisted in his country's aviation corps, was ordered to set out after the enemy's destructive aeroplane. Soon he sighted it and succeeded in gaining a position directly above it. He sent a bomb toward the other machine, which was struck and fell to the ground. Unhurt my the fall, Adolph ran for the shelter of a nearby mill. From this point he succeeded in killing several of the enemy. Sigmund volunteered to capture the bold aviator, but fell mortally wounded. The mill was then blown up, and came to the ground with a great crash and the lifeless body of Adolph was laid beside that of his friend. Neither had known that the other was his old comrade. Maxim was snitten with the daughter, Helene, and asked her to marry him. She refused and told him she could not give an answer to him then. As they were resting after a stroll, Helene was startled to see hanging from his watch chain the locket which she had given Adolph when they parted. Maxim then explained to her that he had taken it from the body of the man, who he had killed in the destruction of the mill.
